Patricia Rives, a pre-med major, anxiously awaits an acid reaction to take place.

Students take time out for the camera while making last minute preparations for class.

Put On A Happy Face

Renee Thaggard, Toby Pace and Mr. Carson show the enthusiasm that helps add to the excitement of our ECJC pep rallies.

Tina Walker and Debra Wilson are all smiles as they horse around in the dorm.

Checking out the latest in school supplies at the bookstore are Cindy Watkins, Stacy Rutherford and Kathy Cullwell.

Chris McCallister, Chuck Hinson and Joel Fox show their joviality as they walk to their next class.

Jeff Warnsley flashes his pearly whites right before he sinks another one.

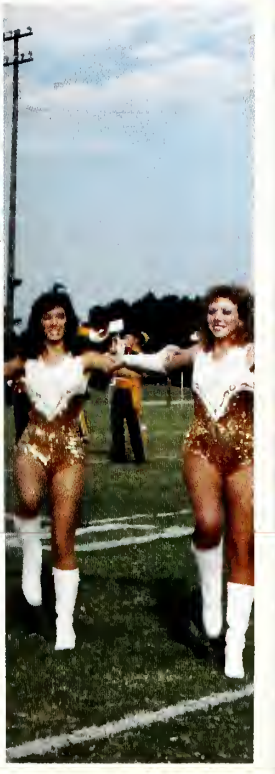
Highlights



A SECURITY GUARD'S DREAM.

Money Collected Is Put Into A General Security Account To Help Strengthen Security

The High Price Of Parking

You turn over, rearrange your pillow, and peer at the alarm clock through half-open eyes, still caught in the grip of a deep sleep. All thoughts of catching a few extra winks disappear from your mind as you stare at the alarm clock in disbelief.

"7:45 A.M.!" the alarm clock reads, and you have a big test in your 8:00 class! You jump into a pair of jeans, throw on a T-shirt, grab the tennis shoes and the books and make a mad dash for the car. A comb is dragged through your hair as you cruise toward campus. Once on campus, the next problem is finding a parking place. You finally spot one only to find it is in staff parking — those wonderful parking spaces so conveniently located next to class. As you realize you have less than 2 minutes to get to class, you whip your car into the space. While dashing to class, you send up a quick prayer in hopes that security will not come by before you get through with your test (the prayer of the hopeless optimist).

You speed through your test and rush to your car. Too late. You catch a glimpse of pink flapping happily under your windshield wiper, and you know it is not tickets to the next fundraising dance.

After removing the incriminating piece of pink from your windshield, you and your car head off in search of a "legal" parking space. Later, as you are paying your fine, you wonder what security does with all the money it makes off you. As you walk out the door, you make a mental note to buy four more alarm clocks. Paying those fines is making a dent in your funds.

It would please you to know that the money collected in fines is put to good use.

This is what happens when a student is late for class and can't find a parking place. He makes one.

A familiar sight on campus is the little square parking permits plastered on the bumpers of the students' cars.

1986 - 87 PARKING PERMIT

Just one of the many ignored signs on campus.

Kiss that five bucks goodbye.

It's really bad. They need more places to park for dormitory students. Like maybe a new parking lot.

Danelle Eversoll

I'm just glad I don't have a car.

Marshall Watkins

It's all messed up. I stay in Jackson hall and have to park at the tennis court if I'm in after 5:00 P.M.

Hit The Books

The Thought Of Seeing Declining Grade Point Averages Forced A Majority Of Students To Work On A Schedule.

Whether it is psychology, trigonometry, social studies, or whatever, one thing that East Central Junior College students share is the library. Some study in the library, others in the Student Center. Some even manage to study in dormitories, but it is a well known fact that some studying has to be done in order to make it in college.

Reports are coming from the library that a greater number of students are using the library facilities than in past years. It seems that the students caught on quickly that they must spend some time with their books in order to make the grade.

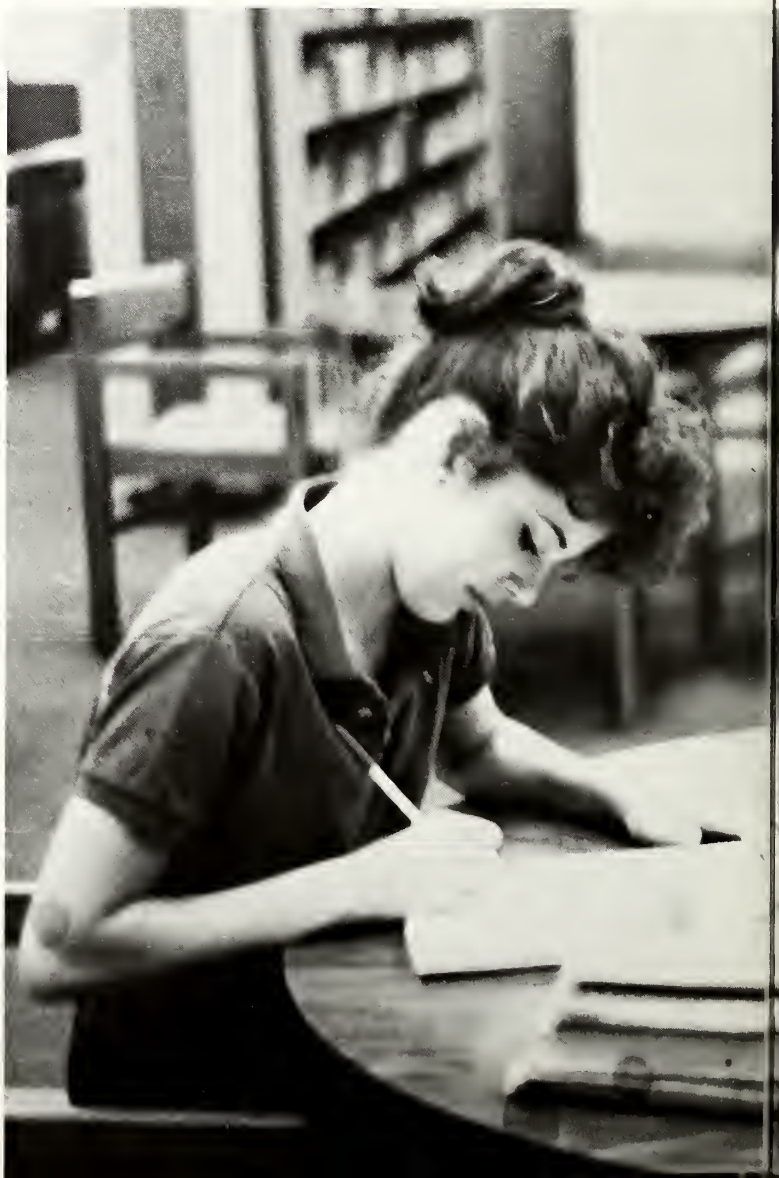
Kim Manning gets a few helpful hints about computers from her roommate Dawn Baskin.

Terri Rasco and Chuck Nance make good use of the library facilities.

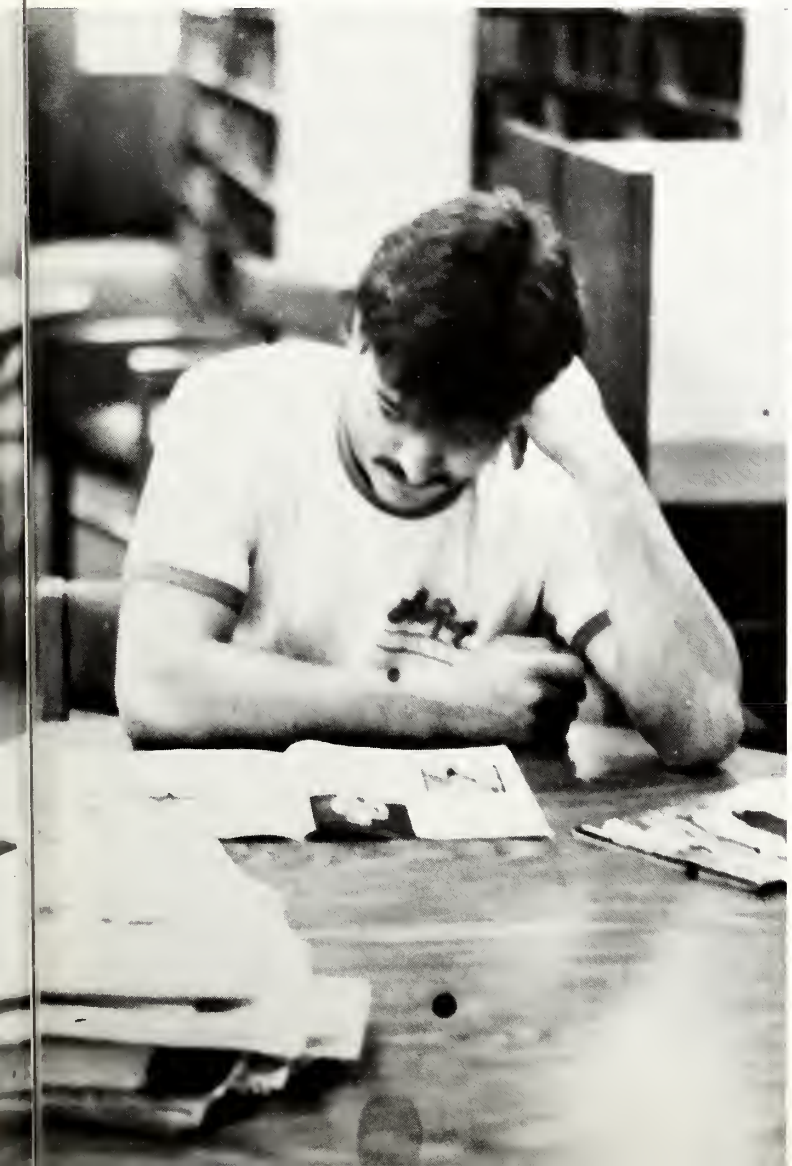


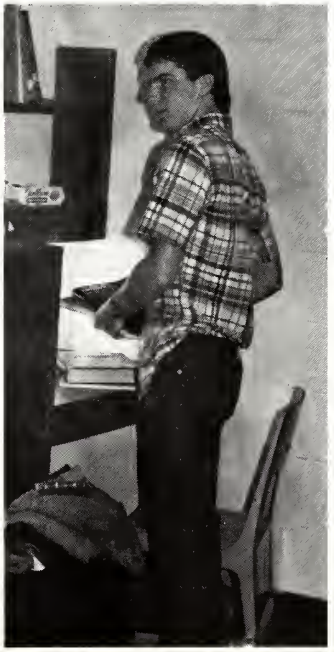
Algebra class seems to bring mixed feelings to these East Central Students.

Peer Tutoring

Gina Reed and Patsy Newsome study intensely in the Peer Tutoring lab.

Gena Rascoll and Dianne Johnson show that Peer Tutoring isn't all that bad.





Jason Thomas illustrates how good organization is the key to good study habits.

Missy Whitmire is an example of the many students who put in a great number of hours studying for those killer biology tests.

Where I Live!

Dorm Life — A phrase that conjures visions of pajama parties, study sessions, and new friends. Living in the dormitory is a transition for many freshmen, since it is the first time most have been away from home. Here are just a few examples of what living in the dorrm is all about.

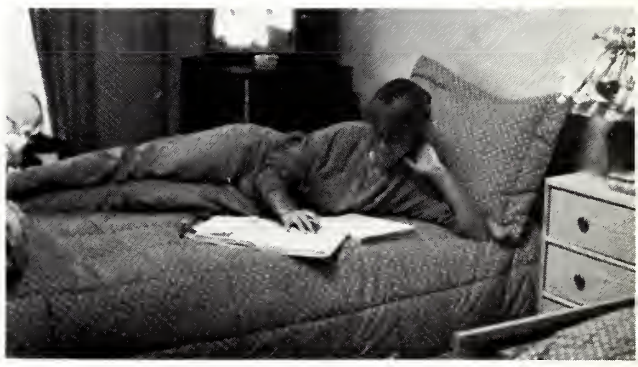
Melissa Jimmerson, Yolanda Dill, Tracey Stuart, and Janice McDonald are resting after an afternoon of basketball practice.



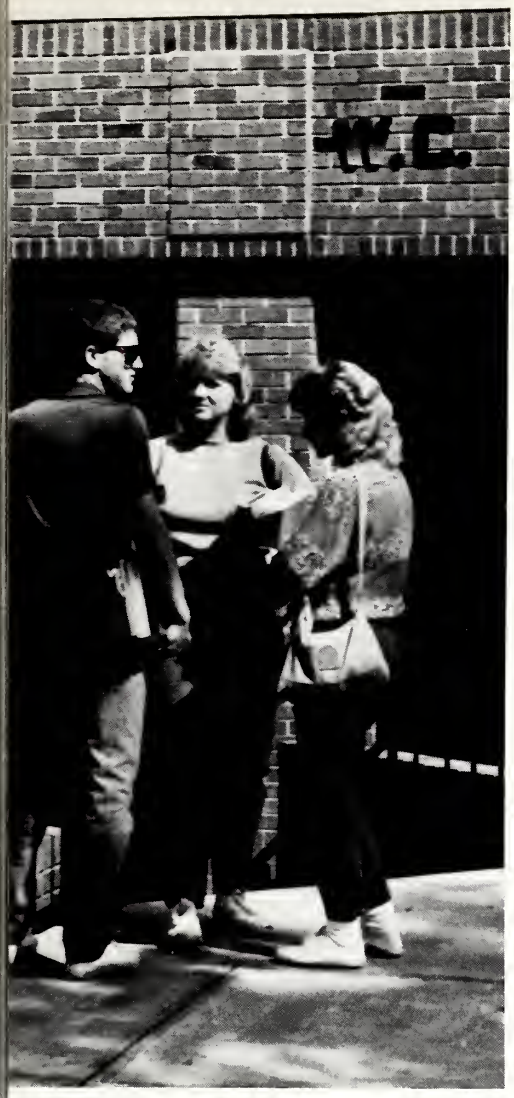
It doesn't look like Marsha Stovall will make it to first period today.

Shelley Wolverton is attacking algebra before time for her favorite soap.

Cynthia Ganann, Pasty Mims, Linda Brien, Amy Craford, Tina Stokes, Brenda Trosper, and Kristy Goodin, find new friends from great heights, even the fire escape.

Julie Adams and Vicki Arthur — you'll find them in the strangest places.

Dennis Duran and Lisa Beeland have found a special friendship.



A true-trio of friends — Rusty Foster, Mary Nell VanDevender, and Cynthia Ganann.

Seleta Howard, Gina Reed, and Stephanie Horton share the confusion of their studies.

Mr. Jefcoat and Tim Sattinger meet for a short consultation.

Life Long Companions

Friends Forever

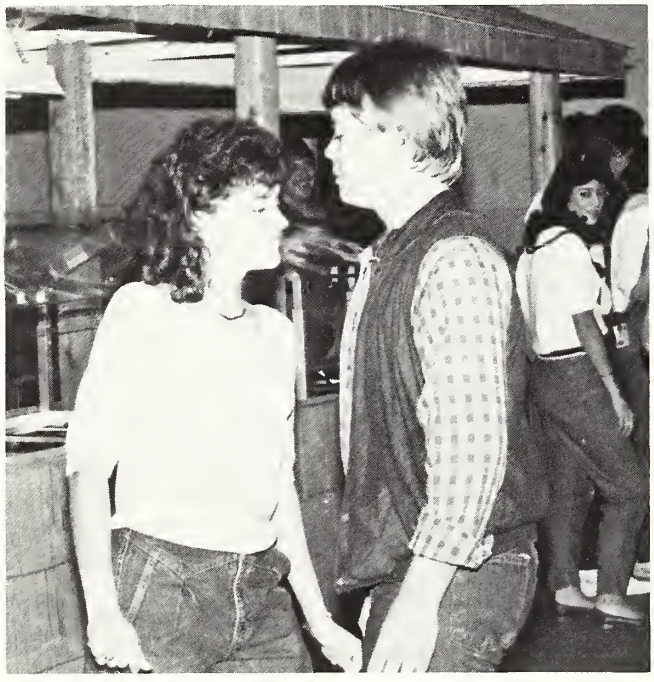
The Recreational Center provides a place for meeting new friends.

Moving To Music

The students of East Central pack in the cafeteria for the annual Homecoming dance.

X-PELL provided music at the WO-HE-LO sponsored dance.

Tracy Glass tries out some new steps with friends.



A Real Crowd Pleaser

Melanie Huffman and Randall Copeland move to the music.

The Indian chief, Paul Radigan, entertains with his warrior dance during sports events.

Dawn Baskin, Curt Comans, Sheila Goodwin, Wendy Smith, and Mary Vandevender seem to be rocking the night away.

The Campus Code

ATHLETE — Those who "put it on the line for EC."

B

BASEBALL — A new emphasis at East Central.

C

CENTRALETTES — The wild "sisters" who are prepared for anything with a roll of tape and a pair of socks.

D

DEADHEADS — Easily identified as students who come to class with bags under their blood shot eyes and mangled hair.

E

EASY TO PASS — Ha!! What does that mean?

F

FRESHMAN — Anyone who a) brags about how they partied the night before, b) brings their books to class the first day, c) gains 15 pounds the first semester.

G

GRUBBING — Intense public display of affection.

H

HOMESICKNESS — A terrible sensation until you get back home, then you can not wait to get back to school for fear of missing something.

I

I.D. — Never go anywhere without it.

J

JERK — Easily identified; walks with arms bowed out supposedly because of large biceps and always has a smug look on the face.

K

KEYS — Hasn't everyone either lost their keys or locked them in their car at least once this year?

L

LUMBAGO — A pain in the lower back due to carrying heavy books or luggage on weekends; commonly known as the backache.

M

MUTILATED BLUEJEANS — Whether by accident or your own creation, worn to achieve "the layed back look".

N

NOISE — Reason why people do not like to live in the dorms; squealing tires and loud stereos.

O

ORGANIZATIONS — What students become involved in their first semester at East Central.

P

PARKING TICKETS — After the first three or four $5.00 surprises, you learn to read the fine print stenciled on the concrete.

Q

QUARTERS — The basic essential of life in the dorms; without them there would be no outgoing phone calls and no snacks.

R

ROOMMATES — Somehow we manage to survive the fights over clothes, food, and boyfriends while wondering is it all worth it.

S

SOPHOMORES — Those students who try to appear sophisticated and experienced while secretly worrying about the future.

T

TEAM SPIRIT — Always in the atmosphere when an athletic event takes place.

U

UNDERDOG — Itawamba 3 — ECJC 11

V

VUARNETS — Expensive, plastic, French sunglasses used to achieve "The Look"

W

WASTED — A verb used to express a state of intoxication; not applicable to EC students.

X

XEROX — The marvelous little machines which eat dimes and spit out copies of old tests. However, they usually fail to print the most important question on the test.

Y

YELLOW DROP CARDS — Little pieces of paper that spell relief for school dropouts.

Z

ZOO — Short for Zoology, which is a synonym for "MUCH STUDY."

Talent Show
Full House Cheers EC Talent

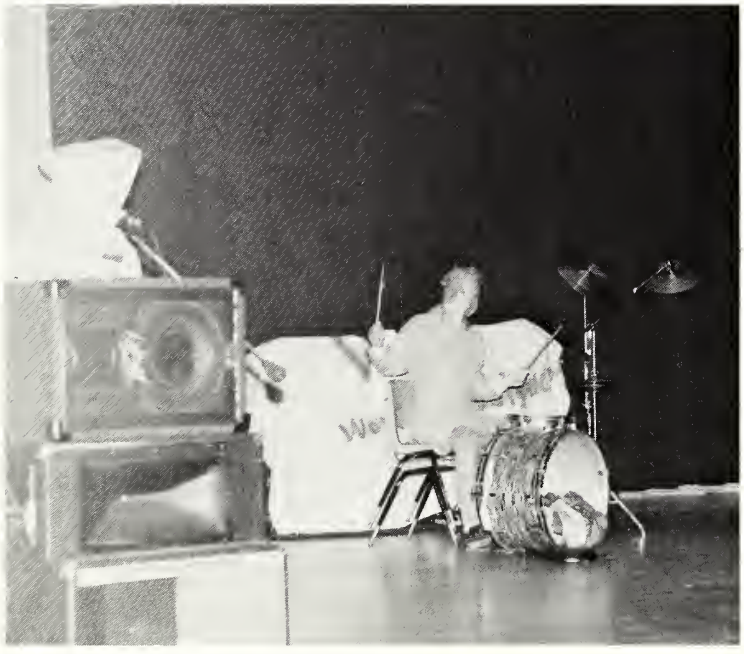
"Talent is that which is in a man's power; genius is that in whose power a man is."

BRENDA JOHNSON was one of the many contestants of the 1986 ECJC Talent Show.

East Central Junior College has never suffered for a lack of talent, and the 1986-87 talent show proved once again that EC students are talented in a wide variety of ways.

Talent at the 86-87 show ranged from a country music band to pop vocalists and a rock band. One highlight of the show was the world premiere of Van Murray's World Destruction Tour, 1986.

The audience which filled the Fine Arts auditorium and spilled into the lobby responded to every number with typical EC enthusiasm. Another highlight came when two students presented a song for which they had written both the words and music.



The UNKNOWN COMIC, THOMAS KENNEDY and The UNKNOWN DRUMMER, PAUL RADIGAN, poked fun at EC's campus life.

THE JUGGS, Boyd (Bear) Germany, Tom Carson, Scottie Chunn, Michelle Murphy, Doug Woodward and Susan Williamson, tied for third place with their renditions of "Mountain Dew" and "Boil Them Cabbage Down."

TOBIAS PACE and DELORES MULLENS, second place winners of the contest, sang a duet "Being With You," a song for which they composed both the words and music.

MICHAEL MILLER tied for third place with his well-known solo "You Light Up My Life."

TAL VARDAMAN, overall winner, sang "The Leader of the Band."

Beauty Is In The Eye Of The Beholder

If beauty is in the eye of the beholder, then students at East Central have a lot to behold. Our school boasts some of the most beautiful girls in the state, if not in the nation. Evidence of this is seen in the numerous titles which girls on the campus have won — Junior Miss crowns, Most Beautiful crowns, Miss Neshoba County crowns are but a few.

Each year in January, the time arrives for the most difficult decision of choosing East Central's Most Beautiful Girl, Most Handsome Boy, and Beauties and Beaus. This year's pageant had 52 contestants entered, and the judges were faced with the dilemma of deciding which young lady was indeed Most Beautiful.

Next year when school opens, scores of beauties will once again enroll, and East Central's reputation as a school full of beauty will remain intact.

Michele Murphy beams with joy as Dr. Smith gives her the Miss Congeniality rose.

The evening began with a look at all 52 eager contestants.

Entertainment

Gayla Gatewood thrilled the crowd with "Hit Me With A High Note and Watch Me Bounce."

Winners in the 1987 East Central Beauty Pageant are: Row 1 — Stephanie Copeland (Beauty), Mary Ann Gray (Most Beautiful), Shelly Wolverton (Beauty), Janet Mowdy (Beauty), Stacie Therrell (Beauty), and Michele Murphy (Miss Congeniality). Row 2 — Chris Collins (Beau), Doug Woodward (Most Handsome), Ken Edwards (Beau), Steve Hardy (Beau), Mike Killens (Beau).

Special Guest, Gary Jolly, showed why he is in demand throughout the South with a song which he composed.

Wendy Smith showed her talent as she sang her rendition of "My Favorite Things."

East Central's very own, Michele Chaney, entertained the crowd while the judges made their difficult decisions.

Dr. Eddie Smith performed a splendid impromptu performance on ECJC's grand piano.

Special thanks goes to Mr. Bruce Peterson, who helped stage the contest, Mrs. Leesa Graham who organized the pageant, and Mr. Ovid Vickers who emceed.

Who's Who In

The 1987 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN JUNIOR COLLEGE includes the names of twenty-two students from ECJC. These students were selected on the basis of their outstanding leadership on the campus during their two years here. Not only were these students recognized as campus leaders in extra-curricular activities, but leaders in academic achievement, service to the community, and potential for continued success.

Nominations for this high honor are made each year by faculty, administrators, and students. Final selections are made by an anonymous committee, the membership of which rotates yearly. Being chosen for membership in WHO'S WHO is indeed a high honor and is coveted honor among junior college students across the nation. ECJC is fornunate to count among its student body twenty-two young adults who are worthy of this honor.

ECJC's Best 1987

The highest honor awarded to a student at East Central Junior College is the ECJC Hall of Fame. It is the desire of every serious student to be among the select few who are chosen for membership in the Hall of Fame.

Selection to the Hall of Fame is made by nominations from students, faculty, and administrators. After being nominated a student's qualifications in the areas of scholarship, leadership, and citizenship are assessed by a committee made up of faculty and students. Even committee members do not know who is chosen until Awards Day when the names of the Hall of Famers are revealed by the President of the college.

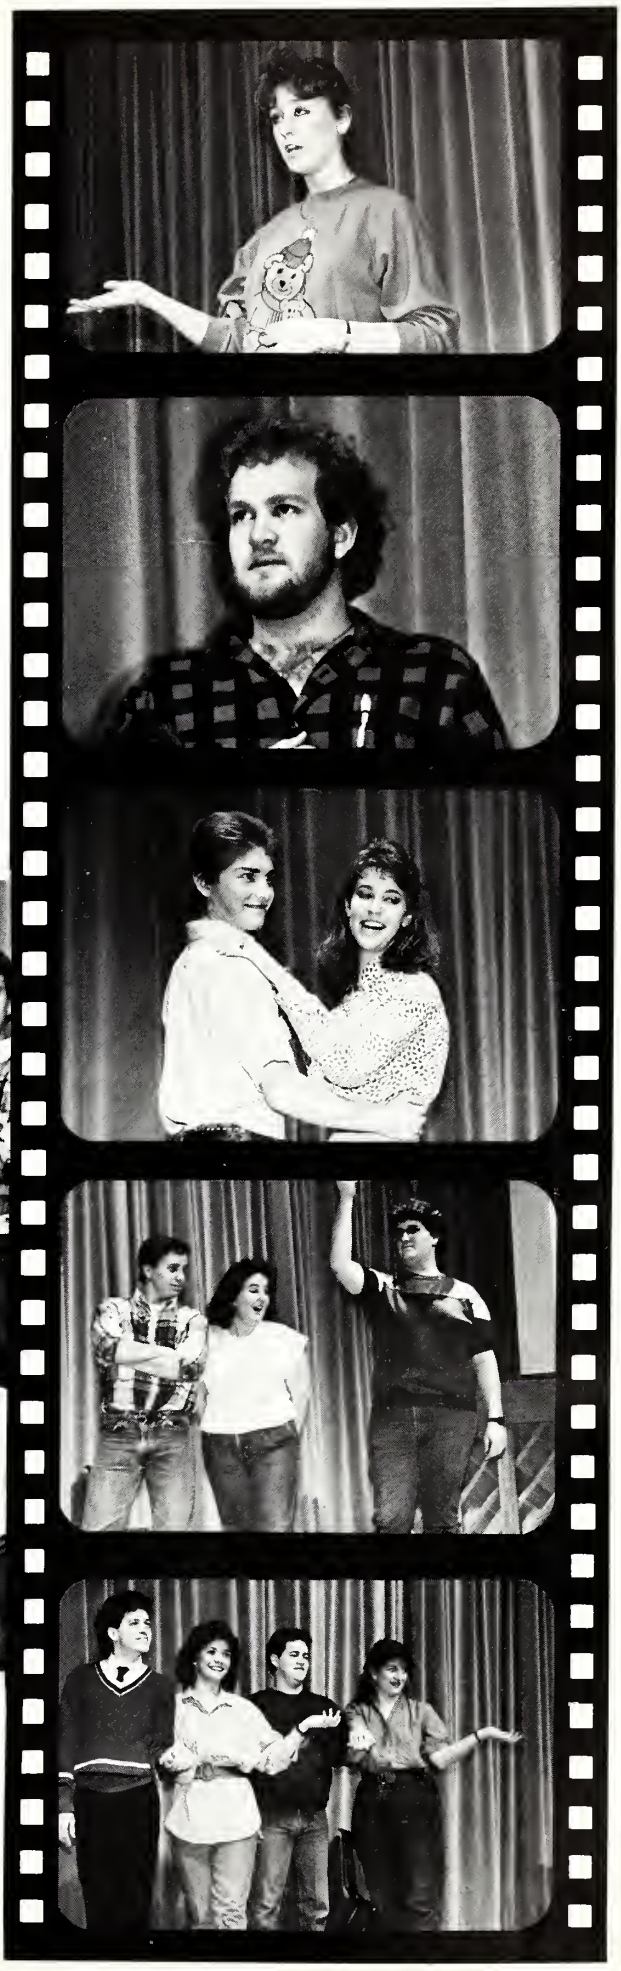
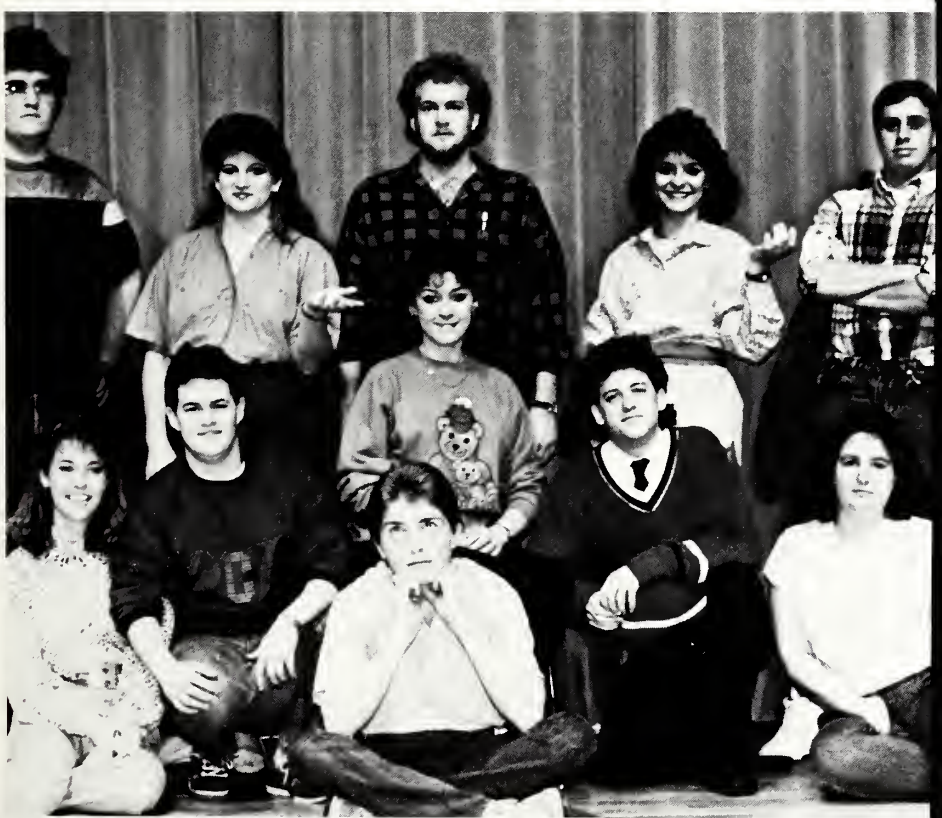
Jazz & Concert Band

A Class Act
Hello Dolly

One of the highlights of the school year is the spring musical. For 1987, Director Bruce Peterson chose the perennial favorite HELLO DOLLY. After the choice was made, and after the difficult task of casting was completed, the long hard hours of rehearsal began. The end result, however, would be worth the effort when, on opening night, cast, crew, production assistants and parents watched the curtain rise on a successful production.



Concert Band Members: Marsha Stovall, Dwayne Moore, Steve Hardy, Michael Cloud, Phillip Roland, Marcus Hannah, Scottie Chunn, Amy Parker, Tammy Copeland, Bud Johnson, Jim Wolverton, Teto Harrell, Douglas Clemons, Randy Boyd, J.C. Ford, Daphne Tadlock, Eugene Cliburn, Dan Cumberland, Jeff Neal, Eddie deVroede, Tambra Rushing, Judy King, Melanie Huffman, Kinsey Goldman, Wanda Held, Richard Smith, Gem Harrison, Amy Pouncey, Patsy Mims, Boyd Germany, Stacy Lundy, Canoy Weaver, Wendy Smith, Camille Williams, Eles Daugherty, Renee Thaggard, Meschelle Jacobs, Sheila Goodwin, Terry Coward, Janet Causey.



Cast of HELLO DOLLY: Marshall Watkins, Doreen Ryals, Boyd Germany, Susan Haralson, Brandon Herd, Renee Thaggard, Chuck Hinson, Amy Pouncey, Michael Miller, Tammy Covington, Gem Harrison.

Jazz Band Members: Michael Cloud, Marsha Stovall, Stacie Therrell, Scottie Chunn, Dwayne Moore, Teto Harrell, Jim Wolverton, Douglas Clemons, Randy Boyd, Boyd, Germany, Eddie deVroede, Stacy Lundy, Jeff Neal, Canoy Weaver, Dan Cumberland, Patsy Mims, Bud Johnson, Amy Pouncey.

THE Collegians

1986-87 was a busy year for the Collegians. This group started in the fall with seven new members and with high hopes for the year. Led by Mr. Thomas Carson, the Collegians performed two concerts on campus as well as at many area club meetings and high schools. During the second semester, the group toured throughout the district performing for hundreds of prospective students.

Members of the 1986-87 Collegians: Chris Collins, Chuck Hinson, Boyd Germany, Tom Carson (Director), Eddie deVroede, Jim Wolverton, Michael Miller, Dewayne Moore, Gem Harrison, Michelle Chaney, Scottie Chunn, Kimberly Martin, Gene Cliburn, Stacie Therrell, Roxanna Manning, and Renee Thaggard.

Second year member Roxanna Manning is shown here practicing "When I Think of You."

Second semester technicians are Steve Hardy and Jeff Neal.

Sophomore Chris Collins excites the crowd with "Twist and Shout."

Bear, Michelle, and Renee try to calm down before a concert.

Kimberly and Stacie rehearse their dance routine for "When I Think of You."

First semester sound, lighting, and equipment technicians: Bud Johnson, Paul Busby, Patrick Nash, and Jamie Nance.

The 1986 Football Season Was

An Uphill Battle For Respect

The 1986 Warrior football season was a profile in courage and determination as they played what had to be the most difficult schedule in the state. The season started with a trip to Northwest Junior College where the Warriors lost a hard fought 29-14 decision to a Ranger team that would be nationally ranked before the season ended. The next week found the Warriors playing at home against Gulf Coast, a perennial power house in the South Division. EC battled to the finish but came up short 10-6. The Warriors next traveled to East MS and picked up their first victory of the season by defeating the Lions 24-14. The fourth game of the season pitted the Warriors against Co-Lin in Wesson. It was a typical EC — Co-Lin slug-fest with Co-Lin coming out on top 20-14. As the season neared the halfway point, The Warriors entertained the Eagles of Hinds Junior College and watched the Eagles fly away with a 19-7 win. With the season half over, the Warriors found themselves staring at a 1-4 record even though they were playing well. As the warriors entered the second half of the campaign they traveled to Pearl River Junior College and again played well but lost a tough 14-7 decision. EC was now 1-5 with four games remaining and the chances for a winning season were beginning to look slim. The Warriors then showed everyone what they were made of. They defeated MS Delta 21-7 and then on Homecoming knocked off Jones Jr. College 14-10. After traveling to Southwest Junior College where they skinned the Bears 15-10 the Warriors were 4-5 with one game remaining. And what a game that would be! The foe was none other than Itawamba Junior College, the North Division Champs. The game was played on the Warrior field but the sounds of the leather popping could be heard all over the state. It was a vicious, hard-hitting battle with neither team willing to give an inch to the other. It was truly a classic confrontation and when the dust finally settled, the Warriors had upset the Indians 11-3. With this victory the Warriors not only evened their record at 5-5 but also gained the much deserved respect they had been seeking.

The WARRIOR defense closes in.

Sedrick Jordan uses fancy footwork to escape the grappling clutches of the defense to run 73 yards for a TD.

Cedrick Nichols (#25) is aided on defense by Angelo Smith (#53) and Eric Bailey (#84)

The ECJC Warrior Marching Band

Begins A New Era In Excellence

The year was 1986 — the topic was growth of the Warrior band. Much enthusiasm prevailed before it was announced that the band of 1986 would be one of the biggest ever. Director Tom Carson was enthusiastic as he invited many interested students to tryout for the much sought after slots. When all was accounted for there were about 73 members of the Warrior's Marching Band.

No one was disappointed as the performances were eagerly awaited during the halftime intermissions of the football games. The Centralettes, the Flags, and the Rifles added much to the overall halftime performance. It was evident that much hard work had gone into the preparation of each performance.

Showing their gatoring abilities the Centralettes get down!

Scotty Chunn — an outgoing leader in the band.

Long hours of practice finally led to the sparkling performances given by the Centralettes at half time. Members of these squad are: (front row) Kathy Culwell, LeeAnn Willis, Janet Winstead, Susan Williamson (captain), Janet Mowdy, Stacie Therrell, Cindy Watkins. (back row) Jennifer Russell, Vicki Arthur, Lori Clark, Lisa Dearing, Julie Adams, Tina Walker, Joyce Moore, Wanda Held, Michele Murphy, Emily Tingle.

Amanda Castle plays with a trumphet trio.

Good Performance makes a hot practice in the afternoon all worth it.

Wanda Held demonstrates typical poise of a Centralette.

The half time show by the Band helps to enthuse the crowd and athletes.

Even out of uniform the band gets the crowd rowdy.

WARRIOR BAND, LEADER IN CAMPUS SPIRIT

Cheerleaders for the 1986 football season were Beverly Stovall, Jennifer Young, Vickie Wilson, Sharrell Rose, Carla Germany, Melissa Thrash, and Chele Wolverton.

"The Chief," Paul Ridigan, added spirit to the pep rallies.

HOW 'BOUT THEM WARRIORS?

Pep rallies became a growing popular way to spend Thursday afternoons preceding Saturday Night games. One could find Warrior fans gathered together on the mall to show support for the football team and to wish them luck on the upcoming game. If weather was precarious, the rallies were moved inside to the Activity Center Gymnasium. The most popular form of pep rallies proved to be those centered around bon fires. The Warrior spirit in everyone was set free as the "whoops" and "hollars" could be heard echoing through the streets of Decatur.

The cheerleaders, along with the warrior chief were responsible for initiating warrior spirit during pep rallies. The football team was represented each week by a couple of chosen players who spoke some well-chosen words. But the main theme of "let's Stomp 'Em" always prevailed.

Other highlights of the pep rallies included: the Centralettes performing a well executed dance to the Warrior Marching Band, under the direction of Tom Carson; and the weekly selection of the most supportive club or organization attending each pep rally.

Everyone was encouraged to attend the rallies — not only as a show of support for the athletes and coaches, but also as an example of that growing ECJC loyalty.

ECJC's students really let that spirit shine!

Scottie Chunn and the drummers prepare the crowd for "The Warrior".

Early November on the ECJC campus signals not only the beginning of cold weather but the approach of a new sports season. For those who are basketball fans, November means excitement as the teams prepare to open another season.

Basketball at EC means many things to many people: To faculty and staff, sitting in the comfortable warm gym offers an opportunity to socialize while enjoying the game. To students, it provides a welcome break to study and class schedules. To families of the players, the season continues a tradition of traveling to see sons and daughters play. To the coaches, it means a great deal of work and worry but a sense of accomplishment when the teams perform well.

Yes, basketball means many things to many people, but to all people who support the Warrior teams, basketball means excitement. There is nothing like a last minute shot which sends the game into overtime or a quick steal to go ahead by two points. Basketball is a part of ECJC that continues to grow in importance each year.

ECJC Baseball

A Fresh Start In '86

A revitalized baseball program was put into effect on the ECJC campus in the fall of 1986. Faced with the possible elimination of the program, fans and supporters rallied together to keep the program alive. The East Central Baseball Foundation was organized by supporters in the five county area who were willing to work toward that end. The Board of Trustees and the Administration expressed their support of a more vigorous baseball program and took steps designed to accomplish that goal.

As an indication of the renewed interest in the baseball program, twenty-five young men participated in fall baseball practice. Coaches Larry Gressett, Ricky Harrison, and Larry Blackburn were pleased with the progress made throughout the fall schedule.

In addition to the new attitude on the part of the players, the field was given a new look as many improvements were made to improve the condition of the playing field. All in all, as the fall session ended, players and coaches looked longingly to the spring and a chance to do it all again.

With the coming of spring, the thoughts of young men at ECJC turn to baseball. "America's Game" is also EC's game, and with the formation of the ECJC Baseball Foundation, the game has taken on a new emphasis.

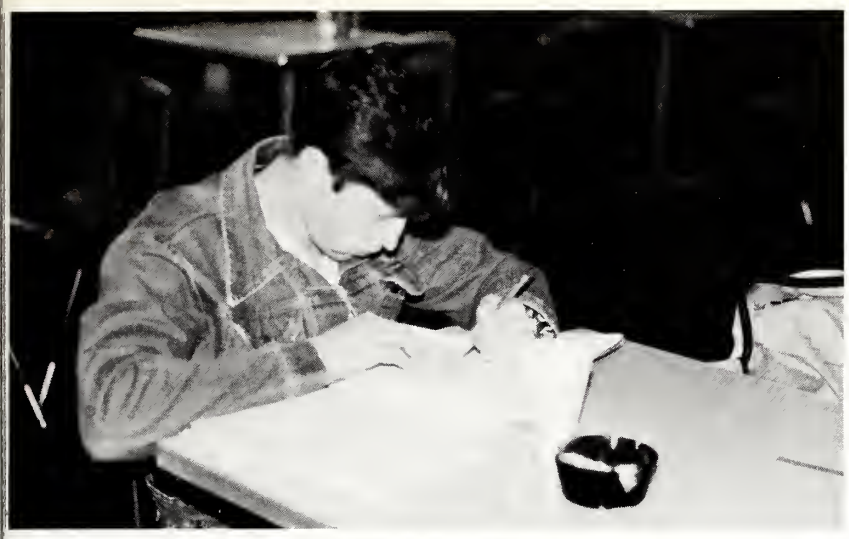
Free Agents Take Title

Highlight of the fall flag football program came when the "Free Agents" defeated the "Color of Success" in the championship game to capture the title. The Agents played a total of eleven games and went undefeated. As a final to the season, the EC champs played the flag football champions from East Mississippi Junior College and defeated them handily.

Rook, a popular game in the Student Center, seems to have the full attention of Stevie Nelson and David Westerfield.

During a break between classes, John Martin exhibits his prowess at the pool table. John is only one among scores of EC students who take a turn at the pool tables during the week.

A group of students enjoy visiting in front of the juke box as Eleice Luckett has an early lunch. Food in the Student Center is prepared by ARA Services and served by friendly personnel beginning at 7:30 a.m. and ending at 10 p.m.



Easily the most popular place on the East Central campus is the Activity Center. From 8 a.m. until 10 p.m., the Activity Center is "the Place" on campus. At the top of the list of events are the intramural sports which range from basketball to volleyball to pool tournaments.

Commuters grab a quick breakfast before class; physical fitness buffs pump iron; friends meet for a friendly game of cards or pool; and always the "pick-up" basketball game continues.

Andrell Tabb whizzes a shot back to an opponent as a friend lends an approving smile. Pingpong is one of East Central's most popular pastimes.

Peggy Patrick of Decatur keeps in shape by working out on weights during an off period.

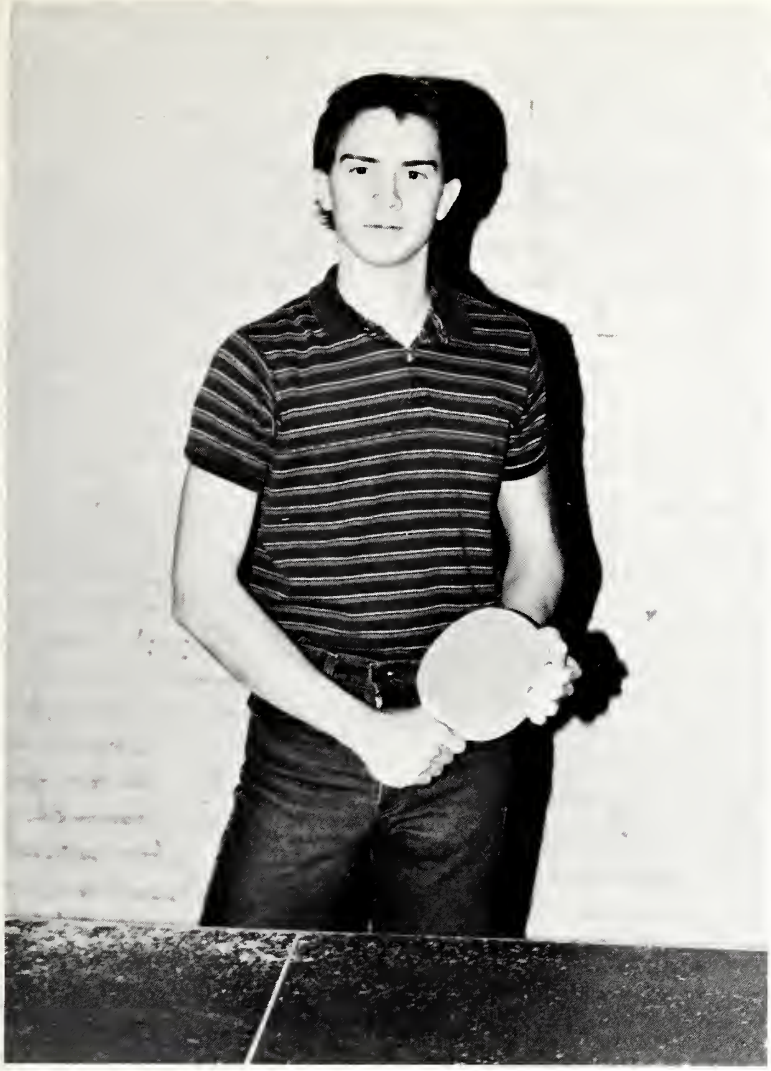
Video games occupy vacant time for Shane Bone and Eddie Edwards. Although a relative newcomer to the Activity Center, video games have proved to be among the most popular "sports."

Jeff Neal tries to up his score at "Chop Lifter."

Jennifer Goldsby and Marsha Livingston take their morning Coke break and catch up on the latest campus news.

B. J. Johnson prepares to celebrate as Mike Killen attempts a difficult shot.

Willie Rush comes in from the cold to prove himself at bench pressing.



Ryan Hull takes his place at the pingpong table where he won the overall Intramural Pingpong Championship.

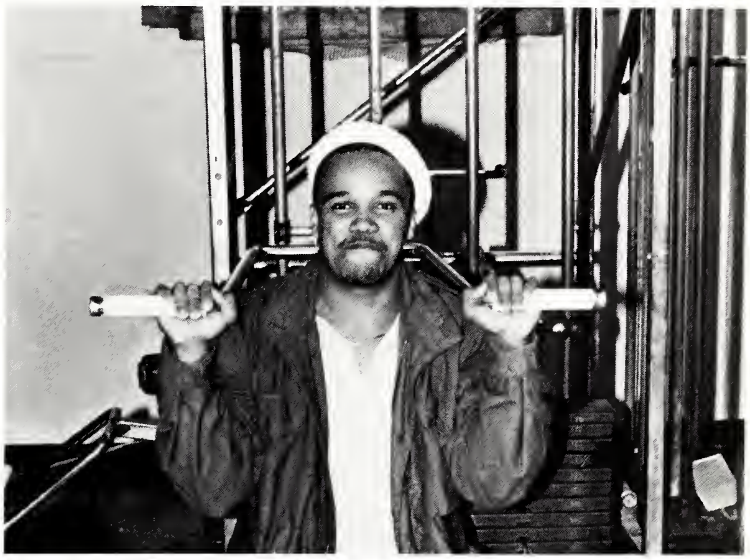
The weight room is always a busy place as evidenced by Otis Smith's use of the weight machine.



Scholar's Bowl Team

Meeting The Academic Challenge

In late February, the ECJC Scholar's Bowl Team represented the college at the third annual Scholar's Bowl Competition at the University of Mississippi. The four-member team faced competitors from twenty-one teams, representing fifteen junior college districts in the state. Members were vying for $140,000 in shcolarship money to be awarded by the University. Team members were quizzed in the areas of science, technology, math, humanities and fine arts, business administration, and behavioral and social sciences. Points in the competition are scored not only for knowledge but for quickness in responding to the question.

Members of the 1987 Scholar's Bowl Team are: Kevin Thompson, Philadelphia; Chris Collins, Union; Mark Eldridge, Rolling Fork; and Robert Weidler, Decatur. The Team's adviser is Dr. Shelby Harris, and Ovid Vickers serves as Chairman of the Scholars Committee.

Dr. Harris wishes team captain Chris Collins well as the group prepares to leave for the competition.

Warrior Corps

The Warrior Corps is a group of students selected to represent East Central Junior College before the public. Each member chosen exhibits loyalty to the school and enthusiasm for the goals of the college. In all activities at which they represent the college, members of the group reflect the character and integrity with which the school is synonymous. Warrior Corps members are neat, courteous, dependable, cooperative, and attentive to the needs of others. They must maintain good scholastic averages, be well-mannered, and must be good articulators.

President Leads College In A New Direction

"On such a meaningful day as this, what is the message that I should like to convey? Certainly, there is much that could be appropriately said on such an occasion. However, I would choose to focus my message upon my role as one who has accepted a position of service to others and to the cause of education. My message is one of commitment; to our students, to our faculty, our state and nation, and to those elected officials who represent the public trust in providing educational opportunities for our people."

On April 30, 1986, the newly-inaugurated President Eddie M. Smith delivered these words to an audience of East Central faculty, students, family, and friends. As they sat and listened, they probably would never have imagined how far this new young President would take the college in such a short time.

Dr. Eddie M. Smith has served as President of East Central Junior College since 1985. An East Central alumnus himslef, Dr. Smith is the sixth president to serve the college since its beginning in 1928. A man dedicated to serving the students of East Central, Dr. Smith's greatest concern as an administrator is to provide a better ambience for learning and teaching which permits freedom of expression and allows for the undaunted pursuit of each person's interests and career choices.

Dr. Smith anticipates a continued growth and curriculum expansion. Under his administration, the college is headed in a new direction, a direction which makes East Central Junior College proud to have as its President, Dr. Eddie M. Smith.

President And Mrs. Smith

The Board of Trustees, the policy making body of East Central Junior College, sets the policies under which the college operates and determines that these policies are followed. It holds the title to all college property, approves the operating budget, and upon recommendation of the President, employs all professional personnel. The Board meets monthly on the second Tuesday and for such special meetings as may be called. It is composed of six members from each supporting county, five of whom are appointed by the Board of Supervisors for staggered five-year terms. The sixth member is the County Superintendent of Education.

Competition Causes Creativity

Competition on the EC campus is stiff throughout the year. Here girls in the freshman dorm help Mrs. Haralson put the finishing touches on their prize-winning homecoming sign. The girls put together a popular Garfield character and the new ECJC slogan.

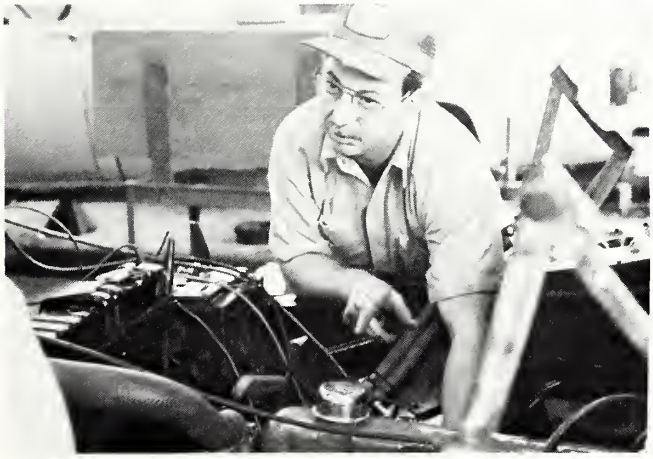
I Think It Will Live.

Auto mechanics class offers many vocational skills that can be used after college. Crash Craddock demonstrates how he locates and then repairs the ailment of this particular vehicle. Students work on faculty and student vehicles.



"The Library Is Just Too Quiet For Me To Study."

Dorm life is always hectic. There is always someone a little louder than everyone else, and traffic in the hall never ceases. Shelley Wolverton tries to study, but with the TV and stereo both going "full blast," it probably won't work.

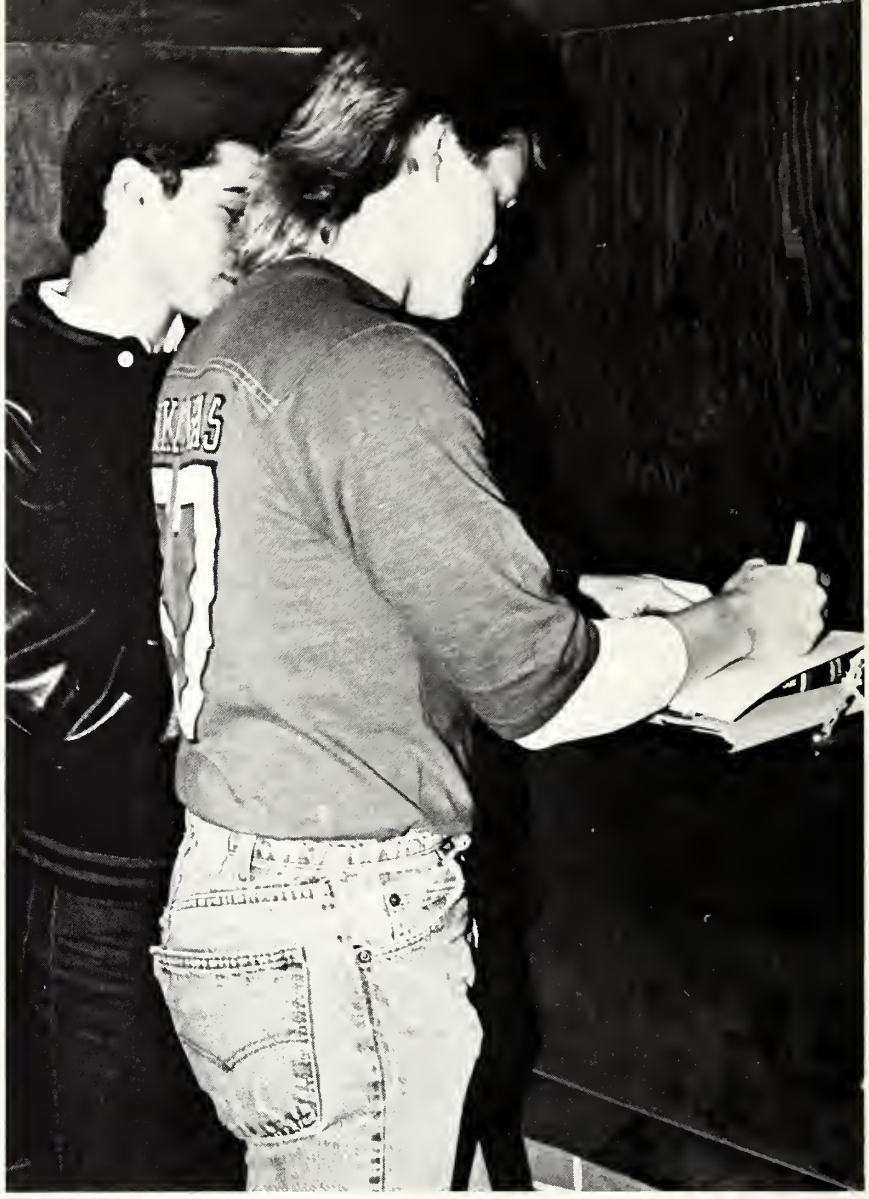
Flashbacks



The Year At A Glance

It's 8:00 p.m. on a Thursday night. Dr. Smith is walking through the Adminstration Building and hears a low buzzing sound coming from the yearbook room. He pauses near the door and listens for a moment but can only catch a few phrases:

Where are the scissors?

Tammie, where is the typography book?

Are we through yet?

What are we going to do now?

Suzanna, have you seen the scissors?

Mrs. Vickers, have you typed that copy yet?

Teto, would you hand me that pen?

Marshall, write this caption for me, PLEASE.

WHERE ARE THE !@#$%¢& SCISSORS?

Marshall, they're right there by your hand.

Oh.

Even though this is all he hears, Dr. Smith can tell; something wonderful is about to happen. Another yearbook is in progress.

We hope you like it.
